Explanation of Blind Review Process and Instructions for Application

Application materials should include this page as a cover sheet with your identifying information. All other pages should refrain from including your name or identifying institution. Applications will be reviewed by a committee that will read and rank applications without knowing who the individual applicant is. Once a final pool of the top 3 candidates have been identified, the committee will be given identifying information and will schedule telephone interviews for final selection.

Additional Forms and Attachments

The following materials are required to complete your application:

- 1. Essay: Please attach a typed essay that introduces yourself, explains your interest/motivation for participating in this program, and outlines any experience you have traveling or living abroad. If you have any particular connection or expertise related to Australia or leading student groups abroad, please share that information as well.
- 2. Areas of Expertise: Please list or describe relevant areas of expertise which would make you a good candidate to serve as the Academic Escort for this program. If faculty, list courses taught.
